

QUALITY POLITICS (FLS-PQ-001) Version 2, Rev 04 April 29, 2021

Mission

The Fight AIDS and Infectious Disease Foundation (FLS) raison d'être is:

- To conduct independent and competitive research in the field of infectious diseases.
- To share knowledge transfer between other health professionals and general public.
- To offer outstanding medical healthcare and human support to people afflicted by any infectious disease.

Vision

FLS intends to reach a number of goals in the upcoming years:

- To maintain our position as a reference centre (at a scientific, healthcare and educational level).
- To fulfil the expectations of our users, guaranteeing their continuity.
- To be agile in producing innovative and high-quality scientific output.
- To consolidate our current research and services lines, promoting the interaction between them and with external groups.
- To obtain the necessary resources that would enable us to work independently.
- To consolidate teaching programs for external professionals.
- To actively transfer our knowledge to society.
- To have well-trained, satisfied and professionally accountable employees.
- To participate in cooperation programs in low-income countries.

Values

- We place the people at the centre of our activity.
- We aim to be close, welcoming and supportive to the people who need us.
- We believe in respecting people and we defend their right to confidentiality.
- We work for greater user autonomy.
- We are committed to the equality: gender, ethnicity, ideology, religion...
- We gather multidisciplinary, experience and professionalism.
- We pursue excellence, we innovate and we lead in our field.
- We have self-management capacity; we are versatile, flexible with great ability to learn and adapt.

Version 2, Rev 04 April 29, 2021

Quality Policy of the Fight AIDS and Infectious Disease Foundation

FLS is committed to carry out its task with the highest quality standards, understanding that this is the only way to approach research, education and healthcare in its area.

FLS communicates its policies to its members. All its members know and share their commitment that, according to our Mission, implies:

- Developing quality research for making progress in the control and/or eradication of infectious diseases.
- Training professionals who are able to follow these tasks both inside and outside our organization.
- Offering the best multidisciplinary healthcare, exceeding our users' expectations.

In order to fulfil these objectives and continuing improving, we need trained, satisfied and motivated professionals who are offered all the resources available to perform their tasks.

FLS considers that:

- It is appropriate in its purpose and context
- Supports and participates on its Strategic Plan
- Provides a framework for the Quality Objectives
- Complies with the requirements of interested parts
- Complies with applicable legal and regulatory requirements
- It is committed to continuously improving its Quality Management System (QMS)

The Quality Policy Manual is available on the website www.flsida.org for relevant stakeholders and is kept in the QMS as documented information.
